

The future is at hand. People are willing to pay for better radio broadcasts than the public airwaves. Why don't the mega-companies that own/control the stations improve upon their services. Competition will undoubtedly create better services and bring the quality of broadcasting up to the level it belongs. The pending law, HR 4026! is a step backward and not the answer. We must defeat it to continue to have free enterprise.

Rightfully Yours,

Larry Fishman